Subject: Law 28th May 2007, no. 68 on foreigners' short-term stays for visits, business, tourism, study ("visite, affari, turismo e studio").

A brief summary of Law 28th May 2007, no. 68 is reported below.

Art. 1

Foreigners' short-term stays for visits, business, tourism, study.

For stays up to three months, residence permit ("permesso di soggiorno") is no longer required. Within eight days upon arrival, though, foreign users will have just to notify the border police or the local police station (Questura) about their presence here. There's no need, therefore, to get to the Police station a second time to receive the final residence permit.

In case visa is required to enter the EU Member states Country, the length of stay is the one shown on the entry visa itself.

For any further information on the subject, refer to Dr. V. Fantozzi (fantozzi@lngs.infn.it).

Professor Eugenio Coccia
